INTRODUCTION

Major changes were made to the export commodity classifications for 1978. This publication presents correlations between the export commodity classifications in effect during 1977 and in 1978. It is intended as a guide to assist users in relating 1978 and prior year statistical data.

Beginning with statistics for January 1978, two new export classification systems were introduced. They were a revised Schedule B, (Statistical Classification of Domestic and Foreign Commodities Exported from the United States) and Schedule E, (SITC Based Classification of Domestic and Foreign Commodities Exported from the United States).

The revised Schedule B, which is based on the framework of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (TSUS), is the classification system used for collecting data on U.S. merchandise exports. Computer outputs which reflect export data in terms of the new Schedule B commodity numbers are data bank tapes, and selected tabular outputs, whether hard copy or microform, such as EM 522, EM 531, EM 563, etc.

The 1978 Schedule E, a completely new schedule, is based on the Standard International Trade Classification (SITC) Revision 2. The classifications in Schedule B are allocated to those in Schedule E on a one for one basis. Foreign Trade tabulations EM 450/455 and SM 705/705 IT, and publications such as FT 900, FT 990, FT 410, FT 450, and FT 455 will present data in terms of the SITC Revision 2 based classifications in Schedule E.

Prior to January 1978 the export statistics presented in all Bureau of the Census foreign trade reports were in terms of the classification system presented in the 1971 edition of Schedule B, updated. The commodity numbers in that schedule were based on and in the framework of Standard International Trade Classification (SITC), Revision 1.

The export commodity classifications from the 1971 edition of Schedule B (with individual classifications updated through 1977), 1978 edition of Schedule B, and 1978 Schedule E are presented in the tables which follow.

[This table lists the 1978 Schedule E numbers, the 1978 Schedule B numbers, and the 1977 Schedule B numbers from which the 1978 Schedule B numbers were derived. 1978 Schedule E numbers are based on the Standard International Trade Classifications (SITC) Revision 2. 1978 Schedule B numbers are based on the framework of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, TSSU, and developed in compliance with section 608 of the Trade Act of 1974. 1977 Schedule B numbers, based on the SITC Revision 1, became obsolete as of December 31, 1977. Asterisk (*) identifies 1977 classifications from which 2 or more 1978 classifications were derived. Additional information on these commodity classifications is provided in the Introduction]

[This table lists the 1978 Schedule E numbers, the 1978 Schedule B numbers, and the 1977 Schedule B numbers from which the 1978 Schedule B numbers were derived. The 1978 Schedule E numbers are taken from the International Trade Classification, (SITC) Revision 2, 1978 Schedule B numbers are based on the framework of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, TSSU, and developed in compliance with section 608 of the Trade Act of 1974. 1977 Schedule B numbers, based on the SITC Revision 1, became obsolete as of December 31, 1977. Asterisk (*) indicates 1977 classifications from which 2 or more 1978 classifications were derived. Additional information on these commodity classifications is provided in the introduction.]

[This table lists the 1977 Schedule B numbers, the 1978 Schedule E numbers and Schedule B numbers to which assigned. 1977 Schedule B numbers, based on the SITC Revision 1, became obsolete as of December 31, 1977. 1978 Schedule E numbers are based on the Standard International Trade Classifications, (SITC) Revision 2. 1978 Schedule B numbers are based on the framework of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, TSSUS, and developed in compliance with section 608 of the Trade Act of 1974. Asterisk (*) identifies 1978 classifications that were derived from 2 or more 1977 classifications. Additional information on these commodity classifications is provided in the introduction]

[This table lists the 1977 Schedule B numbers, the 1978 Schedule E numbers and Schedule B numbers to which assigned. 1977 Schedule B numbers, based on the SITC Revision 1, became obsolete on December 31, 1977. 1978 Schedule E numbers are based on the Standard International Trade Classifications, (SITC) Revision 2. 1978 Schedule B numbers are based on the Framework of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, 1990, and developed in accordance with section 608 of the Trade Act of 1974. Asterisk (*) identifies 1978 classifications that were derived from 2 or more 1977 classifications. Additional information on these commodity classifications is provided in the introduction.]

[This table lists the 1977 Schedule B numbers, the 1978 Schedule E numbers and Schedule B numbers to which assigned. 1977 Schedule B numbers, based on the SITC Revision 1, became obsolete as of December 31, 1977. 1978 Schedule E numbers are based on the Standard International Trade Classifications, (SITC) Revision 2. 1978 Schedule B numbers are based on the framework of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, T8US, and developed in compliance with section 608 of the Trade Act of 1974. Asterisk (*) identifies 1978 classifications that were derived from 2 or more 1977 classifications. Additional information on these commodity classifications is provided in the introduction.]
